THE "POVERTY" OF THE CURZONS.

Revelations showing the poverty of Lord and Lady Curzon after their return from India, where they had ruled over millions of subjects in regal splendor, and disclosure of the actual sum of $9,000,000, that "Joe" Leiter dropped in his famous plunge in the Chicago wheat pit were made public for the first time in that city Monday in the suit of Hugh Crabbe against the Ziegler Coal Company for $416, on trial in Judge Eberhardt's court.

Because of Leiter's unfortunate speculation, as was shown, his allowance is now only $54,000 a year, while both his sisters are receiving more than twice this amount.

Lady Curzon's poverty followed her to her grave. This much came to light. When she and Lord Curzon returned to England they could not open their magnificent London house, Carlton House Terrace, but were forced to take rooms in a hotel and live inexpensively while waiting for funds to arrive from America.

In a few months Lady Curzon died, but in a letter which was produced in court yesterday she wrote that until she knew whether she was to receive the full income from her father's estate she could not open her town house.

The financial difficulties of the Curzons were caused by the immense drains upon Lady Curzon's purse by their establishment and entertainment in India. Lord Curzon was without private means and his salary as viceroy was a mere bagatelle when it came to paying for the expenses of living up to the style his position demanded.

At this time, however, Lord Curzon has sufficient money for his and his children's needs. He and his children are receiving $68,000 a year from the Levi Z. Leiter estate besides the income from $1,700,000 placed in trust. Joseph Leiter receives $4,500 a month from the the estate. When he dropped $9,000,000 in the wheat pit his father came to the rescue and assumed $7,000,000 of the burden. When he died, however, he charged each one of the children with the money they had received from him before his death. Therefore "Joe" Leiter has to pay interest on $2,000,000 that he dropped in the wheat pit. Lady Suffolk, who was Miss Daisy Leiter, receives an income of $125,000 a year, as also does her sister, Mrs. Colin Campbell, formerly Nancy Leiter.

Lady Curzon's letter in which she told of her financial straits was written to Hugh Crabbe in February, 1907. A short time after this Lady Curzon died and Lord Curzon received a settlement in part of the Leiter estate. It appears that he was paid too much money, and because of this he was informed that his income from the estate would be forwarded to him less $10,700. His lordship expressed his "horror" at this in a letter to Mr. Crabbe.

The Young Men's Sodality Lyceum will give an oyster roast at their hall next Monday night.

MRS. MAGNESS MEETS HER HUSBAND.

For five minutes yesterday Mrs. Ada Gorman Magness, daughter, of the late Senator Gorman, stood weeping, with her arms clasped about her husband, a deserter from the United States navy on board the receiving ship Lancaster, at League Island navy yard.

She was allowed to see her husband for 20 minutes.

"Charlie!" was all she uttered as she flung herself toward him. In an instant her arms were about him and she was weeping hysterically. Five minutes elapsed before he succeeded in calming her. "Here, Charlie, is some warm underwear and some socks," she said. "I thought you might be cold down here." Silk pocket handkerchiefs, a new novel and several knickerbockers she also gave him.

Mrs. Magness in answer to questions said: "I haven't abandoned hope by any means, but you must understand that there is plenty of official red tape at Washington and it take time to unravel it. You may rest assured that I shall stick to Charlie no matter what happens. I love him dearly."

"What do you think of the charge made by Miss Kappler, the Baltimore woman, who says that your husband had promised to marry her?"

"The presumption of that girl!" she exclaimed "The idea that Charlie ever thought of marrying her is perfectly ridculous. I don't care what she says; she was never intended to be Charlie's wife. I trust him, and when he is free he shall make that girl retract every word she has uttered. Revenge? She simply did a nasty, mean thing to upset our happiness."

Why

Is it that there is an occasional howl about the poor quality of goods sold by firms? The reason is that such business houses have no future and want to "get theirs," no matter what the purchasers receive.

Our Motto

Is to recommend to you something we can guarantee and sell to you, whether you live in the city or country, exactly what we SHOW YOU.

Some One

Has said that we were not particular about the trade of Alexandria city, and we want the people here to know that such statement is absolutely false.

A Business Man

Would be an idiot to come to a city, invest money in heavy expenses, including taxes and other things, and then even intimate such a statement as this.

We Desire Your Trade

In Liquors and to that end we intend to publish every week our lines of goods and invite you to call and look them over.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 28, 1908.

SOME two months ago the Sun, the leading republican paper of Baltimore, was anxiously engaged in an effort to find out what was Mr. Bryan's position as to the negro vote. Of course Mr. Bryan pays no attention to impudent queries from any source, and certainly he would not accept the Sun as his mentor or allow it to be made his father-confessor. It was well known two months ago, as it is well known now by everyone, that the negroes are going to vote the republican ticket to the very last man of them. This they have always done, and they will continue to stick together on Tuesday next. It can be stated in all truth, this they would not do if amenable to reason, and like their white friends divide on political matters. But it is just as impossible for the negro to get rid of his silly prejudices as it is for him to change his color. Democrats make no effort to coerce the negro as rich manufacturers do their white employees. Mr. Murray Vandiver, chairman of the democratic committee of effort to get the negro vote, and the Baltimore republicans so admit, and Judge Taft says the negro vote is solid. Chairman Vandiver knows the negro well, and he has not forgotten, for we think we have read more than once in the Sun the famous remark of the late and former Senator-Governor Hamilton, of Maryland, as true as trite, that "the republican party in Maryland cast sixty thousand votes before the polls opened," meaning that sixty thousand negroes would vote the ticket just as it was handed them, regardless of whose names or how many names were on the ballot, and it can be safely predicted that on Tuesday next the whole black race will vote straight, and of the eighteen or nineteen thousand in Baltimore all that vote will wear the republican tag. The Sun now asks:

Is Mr. Bryan in favor of extending to Maryland the restriction of the suffrage adopted in the south?

We cannot speak for Mr. Bryan, but believe he is, and this is more than we would venture as to the Sun's position, as it opposed the 1905 amendment and has not given its support to the democratic ticket three and a half times in twelve years. Some weeks ago the Montgomery Advertiser commented on Mr. Bryan's apparent silence on the race question by saying:

If there is one thing more than another which should bind the south to Mr. Bryan, it is his refusal to join in the hue and cry against the southern states for their determination to regulate the suffrage and to rid themselves of a vote that menaced the people of this section. Left to regulate this important matter in their own way, as the northern states do, they can assure the supremacy of white government and the peace and order of society, which can be done in no other way. The republicans are forever ranting on this subject, and do it for political effect and nothing else. That plank of their platform was designed and adopted solely to catch the negro vote, which is their only object in coddling the colored race. Mr. Bryan is pursuing the proper course in not discussing this matter. The Denver platform makes no mention of it and he has no call to refer to it.

No one need have any doubt as to the negro vote, for whatever may be the outcome of next Tuesday's election the Sun and its allies can use the words so familiar during the war—The colored troops fought bravely.

THERE WAS another large and enthusiastic gathering of democrats at the Opera House last night. Many ladies occupied seats in the gallery. The large audience was enthused by the speeches of Judge R. T. W. Duke and Delegate James R. Caton, both of whom were at their best. The facts and arguments set forth by both gentlemen were practically unanswerable, and their speeches were listened to with close attention. The occasion was a genuine democratic rally which all present enjoyed. The remarks of Mr. S. G. Brent, president of the Bryan, Kern and Carlin Club, in introducing the speeches, were apt and well-delivered. There will be another meeting on next Monday night.

BEFORE leaving Philadelphia yesterday for his home in Danville, Ill., Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, said:

I honestly believe that if Bryan is elected there will be a worse industrial depression than we have ever had. For two years we will simply mark time, and whatever advance we make will be backward. The two years he will pass in trying to get a House and Senate he can control, and meantime business will wait.

But the New York Herald, from which the republicans now delight to quote, says:

No one now fears that Mr. Bryan's election would prove an industrial, commercial and financial cataclysm.

All such talk as that of Mr. Cannon is but to scare the ignorant into voting to prolong the Roosevelt-Cannon administration.

George Oback, a butcher of Glendale, L. I., killed his wife today and then fatally shot himself.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Oct. 28.

Gen. Luke E. Wright secretary of war left here this morning for Richmond, Va., where tonight he will deliver a speech before the Taft Democratic Club. His remarks will be addressed particularly to the democrats of south, pointing out his reasons why they should support Taft in this election rather than Bryan. Friday evening he will speak in Baltimore in behalf of Taft, before an audience which is expected to be largely composed of representatives of the laboring classes.

Orville Wright, the Dayton aviator, who escaped death in a fall from his flying machine early in September at Fort Myer, was today for the first time, permitted to hobble about on crutches. His sister, who has been with him constantly since his injury, says she is greatly pleased at his quick recovery, and hopes that by Saturday he may be move to his Ohio home. He has made no definite arrangements as yet for aeroplane work.

The weather bureau today issued the following: Storm warnings ordered displayed at 10 a. m. along the coast from Savannah to Fort Monroe; storm central over northeast portion of the Gulf of Mexico; will move northward through the Atlantic coast line.

Dr. Leon, who is awaiting a decision from the Court of Appeals, was arrested last night in Franklin Park and is now held at the police station. Leon was recently fined $2,000 and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for performing a criminal operation.

The President was informed today that the work of marking 25,000 graves of Confederate soldiers who died in northern prisons was being pushed rapidly forward, but that the existing law would have to be amended if the intent of its author, Senator Foraker, was to be made fully effective

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE

The greater portion of the thickly-housed summer colony at Salisbury Beach, N. H., was wiped out yesterday by a fire which destroyed more than 100 cottages situated along the beach front, north of the mouth of the Merrimac river. Practically all of the houses had been abandoned for the season, and the damage was estimated at $100,000. A few of the smaller hotels of the resort were burned. The burned area extends for about a mile on both sides of the tracks of the Boston and Maine Railroad. Among the larger buildings which were destroyed were Hope Chapel, the little Methodist Episcopal place of worship used during the summer season, and the schoolhouse of the Salisbury Beach settlement.

Professor Frederick Joseph Kinsman, of New York, was consecrated today in Wilmington third bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Delaware, succeeding the late Right Rev. Layton Coleman.

The engine of a westbound Lake Shore freight train blew up while the train was passing through the suburbs of Elyria, Ohio, today. Engineer Owens and his son, the fireman, were taken to a hospital unconscious and in a critical condition. The engine was demolished.

The Chicago Board of Education is wrestling with the affinity question. It is alleged that George L. Voorhees, principal of the Morse School, has deserted his wife and children for a "soul mate." His wife makes the charge in a bill for separate maintenance, filed with the county courts.

Hugh Crabbe, formerly confidential secretary of Levi Z. Leiter, today was awarded a judgment of $416.66 by a jury in Judge Eberhardt's court in Chicago against the Zeigler Coal Company, controlled by Joe Leiter. Crabbe got the full amount for which he sued, alleging that this much was due him for back salary. Crabbe alleged in his suit that Leiter had discharged him because he feared Crabbe would reveal secrets of the inner workings of the Zeigler Coal Company. During the hearing of the suits letters were introduced in evidence, showing also that Leiter lost $9,000,000 in his famous wheat deal against P. D. Armour.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Haines Trial.

New York, Oct. 28.—Blaming the women of the Fort Hamilton army post for the alleged demoralization of Mrs. Claudia Hains, Maj. John P. Hains has come to the defense of his brother, Capt. Peter C. Hains, slayer of William E. Annis. His story portrays Capt. Hains as a devoted, trusting husband, driven mad by the confession of his young wife, and unable to resist the temptation to kill the man responsible for his misery.

As told by Maj. Hains, the story is a gripping, convincing recital of events leading to the tragedy. In connection with the "diary letter," of Mrs. Hains to her husband, in which she wrote jocularly of "bumming" expeditions and "booze" parties with wives of army officers at Fort Hamilton, the major's accusations against these women of the post is expected to bring about some startling disclosures. "All the time that Peter was away," said the major, "those women at the army post encouraged this misguided girl to do wrong. The whole story of this tragedy is told in Claudia's downfall. She became so depraved in a short time that she was shameless about writing to Peter, telling of her drinking and smoking."

Political Outlook.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The political pencil wielder has been busy and today there are two sets of estimates on the outcome of the election in Illinois, one showing that Taft will have a plurality of 237,000 in the state; the other declaring that Stevenson, democratic candidate for governor, will win by a margin of 25,000 to 45,000.

The Taft estimate is the work of the forecaster of the county and state committees of the republicans. A careful poll has been taken of Cook county and 15 others counties. Cook county, with Chicago, is expected to furnish 87,000 of the Taft plurality.

The rest of the state, estimated on a basis of the showing of the 15 counties, will give 150,000. It is declared that Deneen, republican candidate for governor, will carry the state by a plurality somewhat less. The democratic forecast is prepared by the democratic committee. It is based on a poll of the entire state and deals with the gubernatorial situation only.

To Vote Against Hughes.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 28.—Determined to do everything in their power to defeat Gov. Hughes, of New York, nearly all the men who followed the horses to Pimlico will leave for New York city on a special train next Monday in time to vote against the man through whose efforts race track gambling was made illegal in New York. The train will be chartered by John G. Cavanaugh, who is directing the betting rings at the Pimlico track. The train will leave over the Pennsylvania Railroad within a short time after the last race on Monday and will return the next morning in time to land every man at the track before the races begin on Tuesday. It is expected that between 260 and 300 men will go.

Application for a Receiver.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 28.—The Central Trust Company of New York, trustees under the three mortgages issued on the property of the old Cleveland Electric Railway Company today filed suit in the U. S. Circuit Court here asking that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the property of the Municipal Traction Company, and the Cleveland Railway Company, the successor to the Cleveland Electric Railway. If the receivership is ordered as petitioner, it will include the entire Cleveland traction system.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

"I am dying for telling the truth," are alleged to have been among the last words of Tiberus Gracchus Jones, aged 52, a farmer, who on Monday night was assassinated from ambush in his own dooryard near Holland, Va. About 10 o'clock, as he was returning home from the station, two loads of shot and .38-calibre balls were fired into his body. He died five hours later.

In his antemortem statement Jones declared who he suspected his murderers were, but the names have not been disclosed.

The murdered man had been an active partisan in a pending will case in which a large sum was involved.

The will referred to in the above account is that of an old bachelor resident of Holland by the name of Holland, in which $100,000 is said to have been left to a woman in whose custody the document is alleged to have been left.

The heirs at law of Holland are contesting the legality of the bequest, and the man who was assassinated was one who, at a preliminary hearing of the case last week, was called upon to give testimony. The question at issue was whether he had seen the will before or after the death of the testator.

NIGHT RIDER CONFESSES

In the presence of Sheriff Haines, Judge Harris and Mayor Cleveland Donaldson "Tid Burton, the night rider, arrested last Thursday at Samburg, Tenn., made a full confession yesterday in the Lake county jail at Tiptonville. He implicated 40 well-known residents of the lake district in the the murder of Captain Quentin Rankin Monday night a week ago. Of this number more than half are now held prisoners in Camp Nemo under guard of State troops. Burton denied that he was with the night riders when Captain Rankin was hanged and shot, but admits that he furnished the information to the leader of the band, which caused them to swoop down upon the hotel at Walnut Log. Burton names Tom and Garrett Johnson both of whom are under arrest, and Will Thompson who has not yet been captured as the leader of the night riders.

Rage against Burton's disclosures and fear that his testimony may be sufficient to convict are reported to have made the night riders who are still at large desperate, and it is believed that if the troops should fail to arrest them, one by one a deadly battle is imminent in the backwoods of Lake county. So serious has the situation become that all news from the Samburg camp is being closely censured.

City Council.

The session of the City Council last night was of an hour's duration. Most of the business transacted was of a routine nature.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Mr. Ballenger presided over the Board of Aldermen in the absence of President Curtin and Vice-President Hill.

None of the business transacted occasioned debate and the votes were unanimous in every instance.

Mr. Sweeney, from the finance committee, reported favorably on the resolution providing for the sale on December 2 of all city property upon which taxes were due and unpaid on June 1, 1908, and the report was adopted.

He also submitted reports recommending the payment of bills of several grocers amounting to $225.38 incurred by the health department, but presented adverse reports on bills incurred since July 14, 1908, and on a bill of the health officer for services in connection with infectious diseases. These reports were adopted. They will be found in full in the official proceedings.

After concurring in the action of the Common Council on all papers sent in the board adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

The interest incident to a political meeting did not deter fourteen members from being in their respective seats in the common council last night.

The first business was the resolution to appropriate $1,800 to gravel and gutter Alfred street from Prince to Wilkes, which had been laid over at the last meeting.

Mr. Evans said he was glad to see the improvements going on but in a measure he was opposed to a gravel road on one portion of this street—that between two paved streets—Prince and Duke. He did not think that the people wanted this.

Mr. Uhler said he was in favor of the improvement of this thoroughfare but he could not see where there would be any improvement in digging up a street which had been made of oysters shells and replacing it with sand or gravel. He suggested that the matter be re-referred to the committee on finance and streets.

Mr. Leadbeater said the matter had been before the committee on streets many times and duly discussed.

The Chair asked Mr. Leadbeater if, under the plan of improvements suggested, the property owners living on said streets paid anything, and further said that if they did not it was unfair to others in the city who had paid their share for improvements.

Mr. Monroe thought it a wise plan to refer the resolution to the committee on streets and finance.

Mr. Spinks said he was all at sea in the matter, as he thought an appropriation of $1,200 had been made on a previous occasion to partly improve this street. He would like to know what became of this money.

Mr. Leadbeater said that the $1,200 referred to by Mr. Spinks was appropriated conditionally upon the people paying their pro rata. They would not do it and it fell through. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and finance.

Mr. Birrell offered the following:

Be it ordained by by the City Council of Alexandria, Va., That it shall be unlawful to wear a hat, bonnet or similar headdress in any place of public amusement during any entertainment or performance. Any violation of the above ordinance shall be subject to a fine of from one to five dollars.

The Chair said he would refer the matter to the committee on claims.

Mr. Birrell contended that he did not offer the resolution as a joke and requested that the matter be referred to the committee on general laws where it would get consideration. He incidentally referred to his mother-in-law being in the millinery business and said for once she agreed with him. He said many women attended performances, wearing hats that obscured the view from those who sat behind them; he liked to see the ladies, their sweet faces and their pretty hair.

Mr. Evans thought the resolution was out of all reason. He knew Mr. Birrell was fond of the ladies and could not see why he offered such a resolution. He suggested that in order to get consideration the matter should be laid on the table, and on his motion this course was pursued.

The Chair stated that his reason for its reference to the committee on claims was that it was a claim by one member that no other would admit and that no woman would grant. He suggested that Mr. Birrell, who is a candidate for the legislature, find another platform.

Ordinances to establish certain curb grade lines were passed unanimously.

The sum of $765 was asked for to construct a sewer on Royal street eastward on Wolfe street to Fairfax street and the matter was referred to the committee on streets.

A resolution to appropriate $265 to purchase a street sweeper was offered.

Mr. Leadbeater thought this was necessary as the one owned by the city was liable to break down at any time.

The Chair asked if it would take very long to repair the old one and suggested that it would be cheaper to repair the sweeper than to buy a new one.

Mr. Uhler asked if the street committee could not sell the stone crusher, which appeared to be of no use to the city, and with the money buy a sweeper.

Mr. Leadbeater said while the crusher was not in use it was a good thing to have on hand and it paid good interest on the money invested in it.

Mr. Evans asked where the stone crusher was at present and was informed that it was in the jail yard. He said that was the wrong place—it should be on north Alfred street breaking stone.

The matter was lost on a rising vote and afterwards referred to the committee on streets.

Incident to the argument on the street sweeper Mr. Evans took occasion to criticise the methods used by those in charge of it, and said that frequently when it is in operation one could hardly tell whether a cyclone was brewing or not.

A request of Chief C. T. Goods to be reimbursed to the extent of $48, which expense he incurred in a trip to the police chiefs' convention held last summer in Detroit, was referred to the finance committee.

An ordinance granting the Southern Railway Company premission to lay a spur track and switch at the plant of Arthur Bryant near the old canal was passed.

Mr. Brake offered a resolution directing the public property committee to set aside a room in the east wing of the market building for the use of the Associated Charities. He spoke of the work of the Board of Charities and of services given by the ladies to this commenable object.

The resolution was referred to the committees on public property and poor.

The finance committee recommended that bills for groceries, $137.58, and a bill of $85.50; for fumigation, making a total of $225.38 be paid, but declined to pay Dr. Gorman's bill for services rendered during the smallpox scare. The committee reported that smallpox as it was supposed now to exist was not dangerous and no longer dreaded. The committee refused to recommend the payment of Dr. Gorman's bill for services on the ground that he received a salary for his services, and also refused to allow any of the bills contracted after the date on which Council, by resolution, had directed that no more such bills be contracted.

Mr. Monroe prior to adjournment made a motion that the body accept the invitation to hear Judge R. T. W. Duke, which was agreed to.

The body then adjourned.

Official.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen of the city of Alexandria, Va., held October 27, 1908, there were present:

Messrs. Brill, Marbury, Ballenger, Fleet, Sweeney and Summers.

In the absence of the President and Vice President Mr. Ballenger was elected President pro tempore.

Mr. Sweeney, from the Finance Committee, made a favorable report on a resolution providing for the sale at public auction on Wednesday, December 2, 1908, of all city property upon which taxes were due and unpaid on June 1, 1908. The report was adopted by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Sweeney also submitted the following report on bills incurred by the health department, which was adopted by a unanimous vote:

Your committee recommends that the following bills be paid: M. J. McFarland, groceries, $42.25; F. M. Adams, groceries, $84 95; W. M. Priest, groceries, $12.68; M. J. McFarland, fumigation, $85.50; total, $225.38. In regard to the health officer's bill your committee recommends that it be not paid, for the reason that the health officer is a regular employee of the city and receives a salary for his services. It is true the health officer heretofore has been allowed an additional compensation for attending smallpox cases. The idea or reason for allowing the said health officer additional compensation was because smallpox at that time was a dreaded disease, and the physician who attended smallpox cases would naturally lose a greater part of his regular practice. This we submit to be good reason for former allowances. But smallpox such as has been in our midst not being considered the dangerous, loathsome disease it formerly was, this reason for extra compensation no longer exists. To substantiate his view your committee calls attention to the report of the Marine Hospital Service of last year, which states that smallpox of today was no longer the dreaded disease of former years.

Mr. Sweeney also submitted the following report on bills incurred by the health department subsequent to July 14, 1908, which was adopted by a unanimous vote:

Your committee respectfully calls attention to the following resolution:

"Ordered, That this Council being of the opinion that no case of smallpox exists or has existed in this city during the past few months, that no money be paid out of the city treasury on this account from tonight."

This resolution was passed July 14, 1908. All bills enclosed were incurred since July 14, 1908. Therefore, your committee is of the opinion that we have no authority to recommend the payment of the enclosed bills until Council reseinds its former action.

The following were received from the Common Council and their action concurred in by unanimous votes:

A petition of Jonathan Matthews for permission to build two frame houses in the alley bounded by Henry, Fayette, Cameron and Queen streets.

Resolution appropriating $1,800 to gravel and gutter Alfred street from Prince to the south side of Wilkes street.

Ordinances to establish the grades of Queen street from Fayette to Payne, and the south side of Wolfe street from Royal to Fairfax.

Resolution appropriating $765 to construct a pipe sewer on Wolfe street from Royal to Fairfax.

Resolution appropriating $265 for the purchase of a street sweeper.

Resolution requesting the Committee on Public Property to provide quarters for the Associated Charities on the second floor of the east wing of the Market building.

Ordinance empowering the Southern Railway Company to construct a switch or side track on Lee street, between the northern city limits and the railroad abutment between First and Montgomery streets.

The board then adjourned.

W. W. BALLENGER,
President pro tempore.

Teste: LUTHER H. THOMPSON, Clerk.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

The democratic meeting at the Opera House last night, under the auspices of the Bryan, Kern and Carlin Club, was largely attended and the speeches were heartily enjoyed and applauded throughout.

On the stage were Messrs. John A. Marshall, R. S. Barrett, S. L. Monroe, J. M. Hill, J. Fred Birrell, D. R. Stansbury, R. L. Monroe and others.

Mr. S. G. Brent, president of the Bryan, Kern and Carlin Club, presided, and in his usual graceful manner introduced the speakers, prefacing his remarks with a few complimentary words in regard to them.

Mr. James R. Caton was the first speaker of the evening, and said the democratic party today was working as a unit for the election of their candidate as president. He paid a tribute to the manlihood and character of William J. Bryan (applause) and said there was a marked contrast between the nomination of Taft and Bryan—Taft had been nominated through the influence of Roosevelt, while Bryan had been the people's choice. He said that even the republican newspapers had denounced the usurpation of power by the chief executive. The speaker pointed out the interference of the federal government with states' rights, and also referred to the large number of workingmen out of employment in the United States. Mr. Caton ridiculed the so-called prosperity of the country and denounced the protective tariff, stating that while wages had increased 19 per cent, living had increased 40 per cent. The difference, he stated, had gone to the trust. He closed by urging all democrats to go early and vote the democratic ticket and see that their neighbors did likewise.

Mr. Brent then introduced Judge R. T. W. Duke, of Charlottesville.

After prolonged applause Judge Duke stated that he had just come from the Valley of Virginia where he said he had found the spirit of democracy still extant and he had brought a message to the democrats of this city—TO DO THEIR DUTY. He said the democrats had for years been too busy with affairs at home to look out for others, but that now that the black cloud had been eliminated from the horizon they could consider national affairs. He said that the fault now was that men followed the dollar too much and not the principles. The speaker said the time had come to select men to carry out the wishes of the people and not their own personal aims. He likened the government of the country to a watch—the republican party the case and the democratic party the works—and said that as long as the case did not interfere with the works the works would run smoothly. He said the republican party had been inaugurated for theft and had finally managed to steal the democratic principles and embody them in the republican platform. He said the two parties should not be judged by promises, but by what they had done in the past. Look at the fruits of the republican party, he said—war, reconstruction (damnation to the people), pensions, tariff, centralization and panic. The speaker said Senator Lodge had introduced the force bill and that Mr. Crumpacker had introduced a measure to reduce the southern representation in Congress and in the electoral college, which was unfair and unjust. He said he was in favor of a tariff for the support of the revenues of the country, but not for the benefit of the many trusts. He ridiculed the full dinner pail and called it a "fool" dinner pail, stating that it was not so full now as it had been. He said the republicans were saying to the farmer what a friend they were to him by keeping up the tariff, and yet the farmer had to pay a high tariff on everything he bought. He said the farmers could buy farming implements in St. Petersburg cheaper than they could in this country and gave his personal experience in ascertaining prices here and abroad. He said he had priced an American made sewing machine in England and that it could be bought $16 cheaper in that country than at home. He said the tariff had been both the father and mother of robbery, and that the republican party had even corrupted the English language. He said that the sweetest and tenderest word had heretofore been "trust," but that the word now meant highway robbery and everything contemptible. He also gave figures to show how the tobacco trust had been fostered, as well as the steel trust (pronounced "steal"), under the head of Andrew Carnegie, with his "public" libraries, and told of the methods of John D. Rockefeller, the head of the Standard Oil Company. The speaker said he would rather at the judgment day to have been the lowest man, of the streets, who had given a five cent piece to a beggar, than to be Rockefeller with the millions he had gotten by robbing the people. He said the price of kerosene oil could now be made 8 cents a gallon and the company then make 50 per cent. He said the democratic party stood for man's rights and freedom. He told of his having been at Hot Springs with Taft, but had looked behind the candidate of the republican party and had seen the ghost of the agony and suffering of the war of 1861 and what had followed. He said some men today called themselves Taft democrats, and would vote for that man, but that he would sooner be a "white democrat than a white negro." The speaker then criticized the various planks in the republican platform, and advised the people to come out as democrats or as republican—and urged them to vote for the man nominated by the people— the peerless commoner—William Jennings Bryan (prolonged applause). He said he had been a gold democrat, but had voted the democratic ticket because he had been a democrat, and said no other man could get the vote that Bryan would get November 3rd. The speaker likened Mr. Bryan to Thomas Jefferson in that he was a friend to every man. He said Virginians had been told by Mr. Taft that if they would give this state to the republicans they would get all the public offices they wanted, and asked if they would sell their principles for office. The speaker closed by asking every democrat to vote for their standard bearer—William Jennings Bryan.

The speeches were among the most instructive and enjoyable that have been delivered in this city during the campaign. The gentlemen at times were witty and on several occasions paid tributes to the ladies who had graced the occasion with their presence.

Mr. Brent stated during the meeting that the Opera House had kindly been loaned for the occasion by Messrs. Van Matre and Hill. He also stated that the full returns of the election would be read from the stage on next Tuesday night.

ALEXANDRIA HOUSE TO BE SOLD.

As will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere in the Gazette, the Alexandria House, at the southeast corner of Prince and St. Asaph streets, will be offered for sale at public auction on November 5. This is one of the oldest and best-prererved buildings in Alexandria. It was built over one hundred years ago. The late Sylvester Scott conducted a young ladies' school in this house in ante-bellum days. During the civil war it was used as the headquarters of the federal army, stationed in this city and neighborhood. For the past forty years it has been known as the Alexandria House, the late Edward Hughes having been the proprietor up to a few years ago.

FRATERNAL VISIT.

The fraternal visit of Alexandria Council, No. 33. Jr. O. U. A., last evening to Vienna Council, No. 97, of Vienna, was a grand success. A special car of the W., A. F. C. Ry. Co. conveyed the Alexandrians to Vienna. Upon their arrival they were met by a delegation of Vienna Council and escorted to the hall amid a shower of red lights. Upon arrival at the hall the degree team conferred the degrees in a most excellent manner, receiving the plaudits of the large number in attendance, embracing members from Vienna, Dunn Loring and Fairfax Councils. At the conclusion of the conferring of the degrees, seasonable refreshments were served, following which a large class was instructed into the secrets and mysteries of the oriental degree The members of Alexandria Council returned to this city in the early hours of this morning loud in their praises for the hospitality accorded him. It is expected the Council will very shortly visit Fairfax Council, as a pressing invitation has been received to confer the degrees for them.

OPERA HOUSE.

W. C. Van Matre, lessee of the Alexandria Opera House, wishes to announce that F. M. Bradley, formerly manager, is no longer connected with that house. He also wishes the public to know that tickets for the double show and full election returns are being sold very rapidly at the Opera House. As there is only a limited number left, it would be advisable for those desiring to attend November 3rd to procure them at once. They are now on sale at the box office. The management informs the public that the theater will remain open and the show will continue until final results are assured.

CONDUCTING BUSINESS ON SUNDAY.

Another Alexandria storekeeper was before the Police Court this morning charged with conducting business on Sunday. He plead guilty and was fined $2. This is the third case where fines have been imposed for this offense during the past two weeks. It was urged this morning in extenuation by the accused shopkeeper that the law is not enforced against all violators, and he also stated that he was willing to close his store on Sunday if all others obeyed the laws.

COLLIDED WITH A GATE.

A south bound train on the electric railway collided with a gate a short distance north of Arlington Junction about ten o'clock this morning. Glass in the windows of the motor car were smashed, but no person was injured. The accident occurred at a point where the steam railroad tracks cross those of the electric road, and the gate which protects the electric trains was down at the time.

SUNDAY GUNNER FINED.

A young man living at Braddock Heights was arrested last Sunday by Game Warden Payne at "Fair Landing," the farm of William Neitzey. The young man had a gun when taken into custody but he asserted that he was endeavoring to kill a hawk. He was brought before Justice Wright at Mount Vernon this morning and fined $5:30.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Elite Picture Company gave one of the best shows last night ever offered the public to crowded houses at each performance. Tonight there will be an entire change of pictures. "Pocahontas" a child of the forest, this is a beautiful and instructive picture; "Dog and the Pipe," a very amusing subject; "The Kind-hearted Policeman," a beautiful colored subject. Special tonight, Professor Adams in his tramp act and his wonderful talking dog "Spike."

At the Alexandria Amusement Company tonight that great soul-stirring Shakespearian drama Richard III will be presented. This announcement of itself should be sufficient to crowd the house. It is great. Come out and see it.

CHURCH NOTES.

"Our Duty to God and Man" was the subject of last night's sermon address by Robt. L. Downing at the Methodist Protestant Church. The actor-evangelist made the strongest and most eloquent appeal that has yet been heard in his series of talks. He spoke of the intense longing that he had, as a sinner, for some Christian to come to him and point him to Christ; and how he was thus finally led to Christ. And then in an appeal that was one of impassioned eloquence he sought to fire the hearts of the Christian people with a concern for lost souls. Mr. Downing held the attention of his audience, which again filled the church, throughout the entire service as only a few speakers can do. The interest continues to grow. Tonight Mr. Downing will speak on "A Workman for Christ." Services promptly at 7:30.

MASONIC.

With the largest attendance in years, the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Masons in Virginia met in the Grand Chapter room of the Masonic Temple in Richmond last night. The session was opened by Most Excellent John H. Fisher, grand high priest.

After the reading of the address of the grand high priest, the various committees were appointed, and the Grand Chapter was called to meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The several committees met this morning.

The election of officers will be held tonight. Being the next in order, Mr. W. B. McChesney will probably be the next grand high priest. The others will be advanced one point.

"93" HAIR TONIC

Our faith in the superior remedial qualities of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we promise to return your money—without question or quibble—if it does not do what we claim it will.

Because it contains Resorcin, Beta Napthol, Pilocarpin, Borax, Glycerin and Alcohol in perfect combination, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic provides the softening, cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal, stimulating and nourishing properties, so desirable and necessary for the successful treatment of scalp and hair troubles.

If used according to directions for a reasonable length of time, we are absolutely positive that it will thoroughly cleanse the scalp and hair, relieve irritation, eradicate dandruff, stimulate the hair follicles and papilla, revitalize and nourish the hair roots, stop falling hair, prevent baldness, promote hair growth and make the hair naturally soft and silky.

You must realize that we would not dare back up our claims with such a liberal offer unless we were positive that we can substantiate our statements in every particular, and the most skeptical person should at least be willing to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk.

Newton's Light Theory.

Sir Isaac Newton earned worldwide fame by showing that gravitation, previously recognized only at the surface of the earth, is operative throughout the universe wherever there is matter. In another field of physics he was far less happy. His brilliant success in experimental optics came to be qualified, though not invalidated, by a faulty interpretation of the facts. He gave his name and powerful authority to the corpuscular theory of light. In Sir Isaac's view, the phenomenon of luminosity is produced by corpuscles—exceedingly minute particles of matter—which are projected continuously from the sun, stars and all other luminous bodies. But his corpuscles failed to elucidate all the appearances, and Sir Isaac's theory was finally deposed by an explanation which referred light to undulatory vibrations in the ether. It would be some comfort for the discoverer of universal gravitation, were he living now, to realize that the modern physicist is daily dealing with corpuscles flung off from matter at speeds fairly comparable with that of life itself.

Couldn't Help It.

A young lady tells the following story of an Englishman she met during a trip to Mexico:

The Englishman became acquainted with the American party while they were all guests at a winter hotel. Whenever the parents of the American girl proposed any trip the Englishman immediately begged to be made one of the party. He was to be included in a moonlight trip to a nearby mountain. After the Americans were ready to start they had to delay some fifteen minutes awaiting their guest's arrival. When he did arrive he electrified them by his comments on the reason for his delay. What he said was:

"I beg pardon for my beastly tardiness. Couldn't help it, don'cherknow. I had to bring my mother from the gardens first. It's a singular horrid bore, but one has to be kind to his mother, don'cherknow!" — Milwaukee Free Press.

The Queer Screw Plant.

There is nothing under the sun quite so quaint, so weird and witchlike as the pandanus prairies of Fiji. The pandanus, or screw plant, as it is called, is a most grotesque specimen of the vegetable kingdom even at the best and in the early stages of its growth. In its very young days it is of an extraordinarily screwlike shape and looks as though some unkind hand had taken hold of its long, swordlike leaves and twisted them round and round. Later on it straightens out a bit, and from it grow a number of tall wooden stilts. Its foliage is simple, a number of drooping, ragged tufts, for all the world like mops and very mournful looking. Among these mops hangs the fruit, in shape like a pineapple, made up of hard red and yellow kernels, woody and fibrous and quite uneatable from a European's point of view.

Do not let anyone te'l you that something else is just as good as DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills because there isn't anything just as good. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

His Status.

The caste system is so deeply rooted among the people of India that Christianized Hindoos are still under its potent influence. For example, Mr. J. C. Oman, formerly professor of natural science in the government college at Lahore, tells in his book, "The Brahmans, Deists and Muslims of India," of the native Christian head master of a mission school who was asked in a court of justice what his religion was.

"Brahman-Christian," he replied.

The judge, who was a European, not recognizing such a sect, asked for more information.

"I am a Brahman-Christian," reiterated the head master. "I cannot call myself simply a Christian," he continued with some warmth, "when that Choorah (sweeper) there is also a Christian. I am a Brahman-Christian, sir."

Friday and Fortunes.

Two women who wished to make an appointment with a fortune teller who was pronounced "just splendid" by everybody who had patronized her were advised by the seer to come on Friday.

"That is, if you are not superstitious about Friday," she said. "Most people are. They regard Friday as such an unlucky day that they won't even have their fortune told them for fear they will hear something unlucky. That is why I advised you to come on that day. I will have plenty of time and won't have to put your cases through with such a rush."—St. Louis Republic.
